

LATE NEWS SEEMS TO END HOPE

Only 328 of 610 Cabin Passengers on Titanic Escape Marine Grave.

ROLL OF SURVIVORS
APPEARS COMPLETE

Over Thirteen Hundred Persons Sink With the Mammoth Ocean Palace.

New York, April 18.—The roll of the saved from the Titanic disaster seems complete.

Practically every attending circumstance in the transmission of news from the Carpathia goes to show that only 328 of the 610 cabin passengers of the Titanic are safe on the rescue ship.

The 282 cabin passengers whose names have not appeared in the lists sent ashore by wireless must probably be conceded as among the 1,312 lives which the collision of the mammoth new steamer with an iceberg off the Newfoundland banks on Sunday night is believed to have taken.

Thousands of hopeful hearts were turned to despairing ones when the United States scout cruiser Chester wireless ashore that she had been in communication with the Carpathia and had asked repeatedly for the full list of the first and second cabin survivors and that the rescue ship reported that all the names had already been sent ashore. The remainder of 540 persons saved were passengers in the steerage or members of the crew.

After the strain of three days' waiting without news of their missing ones there were few of the hopeful that still held out against the seemingly final word as to the fate of friends and relatives.

FAINT HOPE THAT LIST
MAY NOT BE COMPLETE.

The small remaining hope of the few who persistently refused to believe the worst rested on the faint possibility that the list of survivors sent by wireless from the Carpathia might after all not be complete.

The fact that one new name came through in a private message from the Carpathia was the basis of what is a desire more than a hope that there were slips enough in her wireless lists to account for a few at least of those still unaccounted for. At the best, however, it appeared that it could be only an occasional one whose safety had not been reported through some error of compilation on the liner or of wireless transmission.

From the Carpathia, which was approximately 600 miles from New York Wednesday morning and which is expected, if she keeps up her rate of progress of thirteen knots an hour, to reach the entrance of the harbor by 8 o'clock tonight, came a new report as to the number of survivors on board.

Through the Cunarder Franconia, which established wireless communication with the rescue ship, came a message which included this statement:

"She has a total of 795 survivors aboard."

REPORT PROBABLY OMTS
NAMES OF THE CREW.

The previous statement from the Carpathia had been that she carried 868 survivors. It may be that the report received through the Franconia included a count of rescued passengers only, disregarding the 100 or more members of the crew who must have been in the boats which the Carpathia picked up.

Communication was being had with the Carpathia through both the scout cruiser Chester and the shore wireless station at Siasconsett. Through the Chester there began coming slowly the names of saved passengers from the third cabin of the Titanic.

The sending of these could but help confirm the belief that there were no more names of first and second cabin passengers to send. And thus there was left hardly a possibility that the names of men such as John Jacob Astor, William T. Stead, Isador Straus and the others of the now familiar list of notables could have been omitted in the transmission of names. That these men had gone down with the ship there remains hardly a doubt.

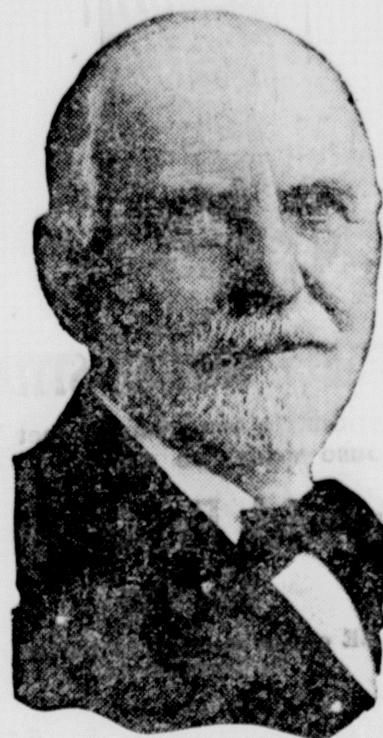

Authorities on conditions of the banks agreed that rescuers of passengers not taken from the liner by the boats would have had to be made speedily, as exposure and exhaustion would quickly sap the life of human beings forced to resort to any other means than boats of keeping afloat.

GREED FOR MONEY MAKING

Admiral Dewey Says North Atlantic Travel Is Unsafe.

Washington, April 18.—In a statement detailing the dangers of North Atlantic navigation in particular, and general danger in ocean voyages, Admiral Dewey said:

"I think every passenger who crosses the North Atlantic takes his life in his hands every time. For myself I would rather go around the world in a well equipped man-of-war than make a trip across the North Atlantic in a transatlantic vessel. The greed for money making is so great that it is with the sincerest regret that I observe that human lives are never taken into consideration."

BODIES WILL NEVER COME TO SURFACE

Professor Wood Says Victims Will Remain in Watery Grave.

Baltimore, April 18.—"The bodies of the victims of the Titanic are at the bottom of the deep, never to leave it," Professor Robert W. Wood of the chair of experimental physics of Johns Hopkins university said.

"It is improbable that any of the bodies will ever return to the surface, as is the case in shallow water. At the depth of two miles the pressure of the water is something like 6,000 pounds to the square inch, which is far too great to be overcome by buoyancy ordinarily given drowned bodies by the gases generated in time."

"That the bodies sank to the bottom of the sea there is no question. The Titanic's victims who were not carried down with the boat followed until the very bottom of the sea was reached. There was no such thing as their stopping in their downward course a half mile, a mile or at any other point."

"Great changes have necessarily been wrought in the vessel itself by the enormous pressure to which it has been subjected. Wherever there was an airtight or watertight compartment the 6,000 pounds to a square inch pressure of water has crumpled those walls of the vessel as if they were tissue paper."

DESIGNING SAFE STEAMER

Architects Would Build Deck to Slip From Ship.

London, April 18.—Naval architects are already busy themselves with the problem of designing a deck which can be slipped from a sinking liner, said John Harvard Biles, vice president of the institution of naval architects, in an interview. He continued:

"The problem is chiefly that of the expense of the apparatus, which would be used only once in fifty years. An unsinkable ship is a fiction of the transatlantic ticket sellers. All things considered, even in case of a collision with an iceberg, a vessel of the size of the Titanic ought to be safer than a smaller liner. A head on collision would leave more compartments undamaged, while a side swipe could be better resisted. It is possible to carry sufficient boats to save every soul on board a liner."

Navy Engineer Compares Titanic Collision to Three Broadside.

Washington, April 18.—A graphic comparison of the probable impact of the Titanic against the iceberg that destroyed her with the projecting force of the guns on a modern battleship was made by Captain Charles A. McAllister, engineer-in-chief of the revenue cutter service.

"The impact of the Titanic against the iceberg was probably equivalent to the simultaneous fire of thirty twelve-inch projectiles or the concentrated fire of three such dreadnoughts as the Florida," said Captain McAllister.

TALK OF HUGHES
AS "DARK HORSE"

Revived by Result of Republican Primaries in Illinois.

PRESENT POSITION NO BARRIER

Although No Justice Has Ever Been Taken From the Supreme Bench and Made President—Champ Clark's Chances For Democratic Nomination Seem Best.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.
Washington, April 18.—[Special.]—It takes very little to upset the equilibrium of one set of politicians and elate another set. As reports of primaries and conventions from different states come to Washington shouts of triumph are heard in the headquarters of the candidate who has won, while the gloom is so thick in the headquarters of others that it can be cut with a knife.

Two states, however, were particularly important, New York going for Taft and Illinois going for Roosevelt. Much political speculation was built upon these results. In the New York case the Taft men declared it was all up with Roosevelt; in the Illinois case the Roosevelt men declared it was all up with Taft.

Hughes as "Dark Horse."

It was surprising how the talk revived and has kept up about the possibility of Justice Charles Evans Hughes, formerly governor of New York, being the real "dark horse" of the contest. "Neither Taft nor Roosevelt can be elected," declared certain Republicans, "and the Republican party is not going to commit political suicide. The convention will name a man who can win." Then will follow the talk about Hughes being the man who could really carry the country. Opponents of the Hughes idea say that no man has ever been taken from the supreme bench and made president. They seem to think that when a man goes on the supreme bench he abandons all relation to politics. Friends of Hughes assert that Hughes did not become politically cloistered when he became a justice of the supreme court.

Remembered the "Allies."

The loss of several states by Taft has not discouraged certain men who were against him four years ago and are for him now. "We had New York, Illinois, Indiana, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin with us and against Taft in 1908, and yet we were defeated," is a remark of one of them. Quite true, but Taft had Roosevelt for him which was a mighty strong factor in the contest—in fact, the real determining factor.

A Mighty Question.

Who will put the senate into executive session each day after the 4th of March next? Upon that day Hon. Shelby M. Cullom will cease his connection with the senate, and that means that another man must be selected for the duty of moving an executive session each day. We all know that Lodge will succeed Cullom as chairman of the committee on foreign relations, but the most important work of the venerable Illinois senator, the moving an executive session, must be determined after careful calculation.

Looks Good to Champ.

There is a feeling pervading the atmosphere that Champ Clark just now stands the best chance of getting away with the Democratic nomination. This is the way the Clark men map it out: Clark and Wilson will be the two leading candidates. There will be many states controlled by conservative men who could vote them for Harmon or Underwood. If any attempt is made to run up a big vote for either of the conservative candidates there is liable to be a break of the progressives for Wilson, especially many delegations now supporting Clark. Wilson might be nominated under such conditions so the conservative men, preferring Clark to Wilson, will send in their votes to Clark at an early period, making his nomination sure early in the convention.

Senate Graveyards.

It is a tossup as to whether the committee on rules or the committee on judiciary is the most capacious graveyard of legislation in the senate. Let any attempt be made to amend the rules in the direction of more speedy legislative action, and the question goes to the committee on rules to sleep forever.

Trouble which might make a deal of trouble and cause a great deal of embarrassment if brought before the senate and the judiciary committee a fine graveyard. Such bills as have been urged by the prohibitionists to prevent the shipment of liquors into prohibition territory are the kind that find a permanent resting place in the judiciary committee.

The Ashurst Bow.

From his first appearance in the senate Mr. Ashurst of Arizona became distinguished, a marked man, so to speak, by the how he makes to each and every senator. It is not so much a grace as one of stately character and profundity. He inclines his whole body forward and bends in the middle and takes plenty of time, which makes the salutation impressive. Even at luncheon he arises from the table to make his bow effective.

Action does not always bring happiness, but there is no happiness without action.—Disraeli.

SENATOR LORIMER IS ILL

Physician and Family Deny Reports That Condition Is Serious.

Chicago, April 18.—Conflicting reports were current regarding the condition of United States Senator William Lorimer, who has been ill for the last ten days.

One report was published saying that he was seriously ill. This was denied by members of his family and by his physician, who said that Senator Lorimer had improved greatly in the last few days.

Overwork in the primary campaign and the strain of the fight to retain his seat in the senate are said to have undermined his health.

SAY LOSSES WILL BE PAID PROMPTLY

Accident Insurance Concerns Suffer Severe Blow.

New York, April 18.—Accident insurance companies in this country and England stand to lose approximately $2,000,000, it was estimated by insurance experts, as a result of the Titanic disaster. The loss, it was explained, will be doubled by reason of the so called "double liability clause," which requires insurance companies to pay twice the amount of the death benefits where the policyholder loses his life while traveling on a public conveyance "propelled by steam or electricity."

An official of a leading accident insurance company said that the present catastrophe had put the "double liability clause" to the severest test accident underwriters have ever encountered. All the companies have their inspectors estimating the aggregate liabilities, in case most of the first and second cabin passengers are actually lost. As soon as it is established that no survivors have been picked up claims will be paid without delay, it was announced.

SYMPATHY IS WIDESPREAD

Messages of Condolence Coming From All Over World.

London, April 18.—While another anxious day passed without further news of the disaster to the Titanic there is every evidence that sympathy has been aroused almost throughout the world. Several foreign governments have sent the British government messages of condolence for the sufferers. The king expressed his sorrow in a message to President Taft and has sent a donation of $2,625 to the Mansion House fund. The queen has donated $1,310 and the queen mother, Alexandra, $1,000 to the same fund.

The shipping federation has donated $10,500 to the mayor of Southampton's fund. Some public institutions are offering to care for orphaned children of the crew. Large firms are contributing liberally to the various relief funds, while leading theaters are preparing special performances to aid in the relief work.

COMBS SCENE FOR BODIES

Possibility Californian May Have Been Able to Pick Up a Few.

Boston, April 18.—While officials at the local offices of the Leyland Lines Steamship company refused to be quoted as holding out any hopes that any bodies of victims of the Titanic might have been picked up by the liner Californian, which will dock here Saturday morning, there is the faintest of hope that such is the case.

The Californian, westbound after receiving wireless communication from the Olympic, eastward bound, according to her course slightly and, according to wireless messages received here, combed every inch of the scene of the wreck for several miles in the hope of picking up any who might, by rarest miracle, have survived the maelstrom of suction and whirlpool, which must have followed the final plunge of the giant Titanic two miles below the surface.

WOULD STICK TO HUSBAND

Suffragette Says She Would Not Take to the Lifeboat.

Chicago, April 18.—If you were shipwrecked and you had an opportunity to be saved, but to seize it you would have to leave your husband, what would you do?

If your children were with you would you go and take them, or would you send your husband, who is the money-maker, with them and stay behind to die?

These questions constituted the chief subject of conversations wherever any group of women came together. "I know what I would do," observed Mrs. John Bass, secretary of the North Side Suffrage organization and of the Cook County federation.

"When I found the boat was in danger I would seek out the person on the boat in whom I felt the most confidence. It probably would be somebody whom I had just met during the voyage—maybe a maid, or some kindly wholesome woman who had inspired me with confidence. I should say to her, 'Take my child and get into the boat in my place. Please take the best care of my child that you possibly can'; then I would stay behind with my husband."

KNOX BACK AT WASHINGTON

Washington, April 18.—Secretary Knox returned to the capital satisfied that he had accomplished the mission upon which he was sent by President Taft to the Caribbean republics. Mr. Knox expressed himself as pleased with his trip.

The secretary, in a formal statement to the press, said that two forces actuated by selfish motives, had operated to perpetuate misrule in the countries of the state department toward these governments. One force is domestic to these countries and the other is in the United States.

DENIES RIGHT OF ADMONITION

Southern Republic Asserts She Is Not Responsible for Orozco's Acts, Challenges Right of United States to Warn Her, Takes Exception to Note to Rebel Leader and Deplores Making Public That Communication.

Mexico City, April 18.—Mexico replied to the warning note of Acting Secretary Huntington Wilson declining to assume responsibility for Orozco's acts, denying the right of the Washington government to deliver the admonition contained therein, taking exception to the communication directed to Orozco through Consul Letcher and deploring the making public of this communication in the same note to which the government was required to make answer.

The reply was made public by Minister of Foreign Relations Calero. It denies the right of the Washington government to admonish Mexico, for the reason that it is not based on any justifiable incident. It denies responsibility for acts committed in territory in rebellion, while accepting full responsibility for every loss or damage sustained by foreigners legally chargeable to the government.

A caution has been issued to leaders of the federal forces to insure proper treatment of foreigners who may be taken as prisoners of war, at the same time it is asserted that no basis exists for supposing that any other course would be pursued.

Orozco is held to be answerable for his offenses only to the Mexican courts and therefore should not have been made the recipient of a diplomatic communication.

"In reply, and by express instructions of the president of the republic, I have the honor to say to your excellency:

Full Consciousness of Duty.

"The Mexican government has a full consciousness of its duty and neither by its acts, nor by the manifestations of its functionaries has it given a reason to doubt the sincerity of its determination to cause to be respected the generally accepted principles of international law and the rules which govern the conduct of civilized nations."

"Your government has recognized this in the note which I have the honor to answer and by means of other repeated demonstrations of friendship toward the government and the people of Mexico, which demonstrations so highly and so cordially have been esteemed in this country."

"For these reasons the Mexican government finds itself in the painful necessity of not recognizing the right of your government to make the admonition which the note contains, for the reason that it is not based on any incident that should be chargeable to the Mexican government and which could signify that it might have departed from an observance of the principles and practices of international law."

"In view of the fact that a part of the country is in a state of rebellion the Mexican government has as its principal duty the suppression of the rebellious movement and if in the regions removed from obedience to the legitimate authorities attempts are committed against the lives and property of foreigners the legitimate government of the republic will not be obligated in this respect except in the same terms as would the government of the United States or any other country if a rebellion existed in its own territory."

SAME ON THE GREAT LAKES

Heavy Loss of Life Would Follow Serious Accident.

Duluth, April 18.—Insufficient lifeboats, the cause that led to 1,400 passengers and crew of the Titanic losing their lives, exists to an alarming degree on the Great Lakes, according to John Monaghan, government inspector of vessels in Duluth.

The law does not require passenger vessels to carry lifeboats sufficient in capacity and number to care for all the people on board, he said, and in the event of a lake boat meeting with an accident, making necessary immediate abandonment, only 25 to 40 percent of those aboard could be saved, as this would exhaust the lifeboat capacity.

He said that if vessel owners were compelled to carry lifeboats to accommodate every one on board they would have to cut down their capacity and raise their rates for transportation.

SENATE ORDERS
WRECK INQUIRY

Passes Resolution to Investigate Titanic Disaster.

FAVORS MARITIME TREATIES

Among Flood of Bills and Resolutions in Both Houses of Congress Is One by Senator Martine of New Jersey Advising President Senate Would Favor Pacts to Regulate Safety of Ocean Craft and Their Passengers and Crews.

Washington, April 18.—Congress acted swiftly on the Titanic catastrophe. Bills and resolutions designed to prevent repetition of the awful disaster off the Newfoundland banks poured into both houses.

The senate agreed to a resolution directing a thorough investigation by the commerce committee into the cause leading to the wreck with particular reference to the inadequacy of lifeboats. The resolution, the first introduced in the senate, presented by Senator Smith of Michigan, who ranks next to the chairman of the commerce committee, was adopted by unanimous consent in one hour and twenty minutes.

Sensors Martine of New Jersey and Perkins of California, the latter chairman of the naval affairs committee, also introduced bills.

Senator Martine proposed that the president be advised that the senate would favor treaties with maritime nations to regulate the safety of ocean craft and their passengers and crew.

Senator Perkins' resolution provided for the equipment of steamers with adequate lifesaving apparatus. It would require that every steamer shall have a sufficient number of seaworthy lifeboats to carry "at one time every passenger and every member of the crew; that it shall not clear any port without so certifying to the several supervising inspectors who would determine the character of such equipment, but would have no discretion whatever as to the number of lifeboats, which would be determined solely by the actual capacity to carry all aboard.

Regulations for Lifeboats.

The Perkins resolution even prescribed that the lifeboats should have not less than three cubic feet of displacement for each person.

The Martine resolution was referred to the foreign relations committee and the Perkins resolution went to the commerce committee.

The house committee on merchant marine will speedily take up the many bills and resolutions which have been introduced bearing on the Titanic disaster. Representative Alexander of Missouri, chairman of the committee, introduced two resolutions.

One would direct the president to invite the maritime nations of the world to appoint members of an international commission to define ship lanes and routes and to minimize the danger of collisions at sea. The other would extend a similar invitation to nations interested in North Atlantic steamship travel to form a commission to arrange for a patrol of North Atlantic waters to warn ships.

Representative Sulzer of New York, chairman of the foreign relations committee, offered a joint resolution identical with the senate resolution introduced by Mr. Perkins. The Perkins-Sulzer provisions would require one life preserver for each person aboard.

They would also make it a felony for any captain, executive officer or resident general agent of a corporation actually charged with control, management, operation, equipment or navigation of ocean vessels to knowingly permit a vessel to sail from any port of the United States without full lifesaving equipment. The penalty would be imprisonment at hard labor for not more than ten years.

KEEPS UP HOPE FOR BUILDING

President Still Clings to Belief May Be Safe.

Washington, April 18.—President Taft told friends that he still was clinging to the hope that Major Archibald Butt, his military aide, might have been saved from the wreck of the Titanic.

The continued lack of news of the major carried the hopes of the president still lower, but Mr. Taft was expecting that with the arrival of the Carpathia something definite might be learned.

The president telegraphed to Major Butt's relatives that he still was hoping for favorable news.

Monster Ship Ordered.

New York, April 18.—A new $10,000,000 steamship, larger and more luxurious even than the monster George Washington, has been ordered by the North German Lloyd, according to a cable received by the general agents of the company, Messrs. Oelrichs & Co. The contract for the new ship was let to the Schichau Shipbuilding company of Danzig, Germany, and calls for the completion of the vessel not later than August, 1914.

Baltimore, April 18.—"The bodies of the victims of the Titanic are at the bottom of the deep, never to leave it," Professor Robert W. Wood of the chair of experimental physics of Johns Hopkins university said.

"It is improbable that any of the bodies will ever return to the surface, as is the case in shallow water. "Great changes have necessarily been wrought in the vessel itself by the enormous pressure to which it has been subjected. Wherever there was an airtight or watertight compartment the 6,000 pounds to a square inch pressure of water has crumpled those walls of the vessel as if they were tissue paper."

DESIGNING SAFE STEAMER

Architects Would Build Deck to Slip From Ship.

London, April 18.—Naval architects are already busy themselves with the problem of designing a deck which can be slipped from a sinking liner, said John Harvard Biles, vice president of the institution of naval architects, in an interview. He continued:

"The problem is chiefly that of the expense of the apparatus, which would be used only once in a fifty years. An unsinkable ship is a fiction of the transatlantic ticket sellers. All things considered, even in case of a collision with an iceberg, a vessel of the size of the Titanic ought to be safer than a smaller liner. A head on collision would leave more compartments undamaged, while a side swipe could be better resisted. It is possible to carry sufficient boats to save every soul on board a liner."

AS IF HIT BY THIRTY GUNS

Navy Engineer Compares Titanic Collision to Three Broadside.

Washington, April 18.—A graphic comparison of the probable impact of the Titanic against the iceberg that destroyed her with the projecting force of the guns on a modern battleship was made by Captain Charles A. McAllister, engineer-in-chief of the revenue cutter Service.

"The impact of the Titanic against the iceberg was probably equivalent to the simultaneous fire of thirty twelve-inch projectiles or the concentrated fire of three said dreadnoughts as the Florida," said Captain McAllister.

TALK OF HUGHES
AS "DARK HORSE"

Revived by Result of Republican Primaries in Illinois.

PRESENT POSITION NO BARRIER

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.
Washington, April 18.—[Special.]—It takes very little to upset the equilibrium of one set of politicians and elate another set. As reports of primaries and conventions from different states come to Washington shouts of triumph are heard in the headquarters of the candidate who has won, while the gloom is so thick in the headquarters of others that it can be cut with a knife.

Two states, however, were particularly important, New York going for Taft and Illinois going for Roosevelt. Much political speculation was built upon these results. In the New York case the Taft men declared it was all up with Roosevelt; in the Illinois case the Roosevelt men declared it was all up with Taft.

Hughes as "Dark Horse."

It was surprising how the talk revived and has kept up about the possibility of Justice Charles Evans Hughes, formerly governor of New York, being the real "dark horse" of the contest. "Neither Taft nor Roosevelt can be elected," declared certain Republicans, "and the Republican party is not going to commit political suicide. The convention will name a man who can win." Then will follow the talk about Hughes being the man who could really carry the country. Opponents of the Hughes idea say that no man has ever been taken from the supreme bench and made president. They seem to think that when a man goes on the supreme bench he abandons all relation to politics. Friends of Hughes assert that Hughes did not become politically cloistered when he became a justice of the supreme court.

Remembered the "Allies."
The loss of several states by Taft has not discouraged certain men who were against him four years ago and are for him now. "We had New York, Illinois, Indiana, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin with us and against Taft in 1908, and yet we were defeated," was a remark of one of them. Quite true, but Taft had Roosevelt for him which was a mighty strong factor in the contest—in fact, the real determining factor.

A Mighty Question.
Who will put the senate into executive session each day after the 4th of March next? Upon that day Hon. Shelby M. Cullom will cease his connection with the senate, and that means that another man must be selected for the duty of moving an executive session each day. We all know that Lodge will succeed Cullom as chairman of the committee on foreign relations, but the most important work of the venerable Illinois senator, the moving an executive session, must be determined after careful calculation.

Looks Good to Champ.
There is a feeling pervading the atmosphere that Champ Clark just now stands the best chance of getting away with the Democratic nomination. This is the way the Clark men map it out: Clark and Wilson will be the two leading candidates. There will be many states controlled by conservative men who could vote them for Harmon or Underwood. If any attempt is made to run up a big vote for either of the conservative candidates there is liable to be a break of the progressives for Wilson, especially many delegations now supporting Clark. Wilson might be nominated under such conditions so the conservative men, preferring Clark to Wilson, will send in their votes to Clark at an early period, making his nomination sure early in the convention.

Senate Graveyards.
It is a tossup as to whether the committee on rules or the committee on judiciary is the most capacious graveyard of legislation in the senate. Let any attempt be made to amend the rules in the direction of more speedy legislative action, and the question goes to the committee on rules to sleep forever.

Bills which might make a deal of trouble and cause a great deal of embarrassment if brought before the senate find the judiciary committee a fine graveyard. Such bills as have been urged by the prohibitionists to prevent the shipment of liquors into prohibition territory are the kind that find a permanent resting place in the judiciary committee.

The Ashurst Bow.
From his first appearance in the senate Mr. Ashurst of Arizona became distinguished, a marked man, so to speak, by the bow he makes to each and every senator. It is not so much a graceful bow as one of stately character and profundity. He inclines his whole body forward and bends in the middle and takes plenty of time, which makes the salutation impressive. Even at luncheon he arises from the table to make his bow effective.

Action.
Action does not always bring happiness, but there is no happiness without action.—Disraeli.

WILLIAM LORIMER.

Conflicting Reports Regarding Illness of the Illinois Senator.

SENATOR LORIMER IS ILL

Physician and Family Deny Reports That Condition Is Serious.

Chicago, April 18.—Conflicting reports were current regarding the condition of United States Senator William Lorimer, who has been ill for the last ten days.

One report was published saying that he was seriously ill. This was denied by members of his family and by his physician, who said that Senator Lorimer had improved greatly in the last few days.

Overwork in the primary campaign and the strain of the fight to retain his seat in the senate are said to have undermined his health.

BE PAID PROMPTLY

Accident Insurance Concerns Suffer Severe Blow.

New York, April 18.—Accident insurance companies in this country and England stand to lose approximately $2,000,000, it was estimated by insurance experts, as a result of the Titanic disaster. The loss, it was explained, will be doubled by reason of the so called "double liability clause," which requires insurance companies to pay twice the amount of the death benefits where the policyholder loses his life while traveling on a public conveyance "propelled by steam or electricity."

An official of a leading accident insurance company said that the present catastrophe had put the "double liability clause" to the severest test accident underwriters have ever encountered. All the companies have their inspectors estimating the aggregate liabilities, in case most of the first and second cabin passengers are actually lost. As soon as it is established that no survivors have been picked up claims will be paid without delay, it was announced.

SYMPATHY IS WIDESPREAD

Messages of Condolence Coming From All Over World.

London, April 18.—While another anxious day passed without further news of the disaster to the Titanic there is every evidence that sympathy has been aroused almost throughout the world. Several foreign governments have sent the British government messages of condolence for the sufferers. The king expressed his sorrow in a message to President Taft and has sent a donation of $2,625 to the Mansion House fund. The queen has donated $1,310 and the queen mother, Alexandra, $1,000 to the same fund.

The shipping federation has donated $10,500 to the mayor of Southampton's fund. Some public institutions are offering to care for orphaned children of the crew. Large firms are contributing liberally to the various relief funds, while leading theaters are preparing special performances to aid in the relief work.

Possibility Californian May Have Been Able to Pick Up a Few.

Boston, April 18.—While officials at the local offices of the Leyland Lines Steamship company refused to be quoted as holding out any hopes that any bodies of victims of the Titanic might have been picked up by the liner Californian, which will dock here Saturday morning, there is the faintest of hope that such is the case.

The Californian, westbound, after receiving wireless communication from the Olympic, eastward bound, went out of her course slightly and, according to wireless messages received here, combed every inch of the scene of the wreck for several miles in the hope of picking up any who might, by rarest miracle, have survived the maelstrom of suction and whirlpool, which must have followed the final plunge of the giant Titanic two miles below the surface.

WOULD STICK TO HUSBAND

Suffragette Says She Would Not Take to the Lifeboat.

Chicago, April 18.—If you were shipwrecked and you had an opportunity to be saved, but to seize it you would have to leave your husband, what would you do?

If your children were with you would you go and take them, or would you send your husband, who is the money maker, with them and stay behind to die?

These questions constituted the chief subject of conversations wherever any group of women came together. "I know what I would do," observed Mrs. John Bass, secretary of the North Side Suffrage organization and of the Cook County federation.

"When I found the boat was in danger I would seek out the person on the boat in whom I felt the most confidence. It probably would be somebody whom I had just met during the voyage—maybe a maid, or some kindly wholesome woman who had inspired me with confidence. I should say to her, 'Take my child and get into the boat in my place. Please take the best care of my child that you possibly can'; then I would stay behind with my husband."

Edam Cheese.

In Holland edam cheese is not exalted, but is sliced off, and the Dutch have a saying, "Die myn kaas snydt als een schuit, die jaag ik myn deur uit"—"Whoso cuts my cheese like a boat, to him I show the door."

ESTIMATES DEAD AT 2,000

Message From Chicago on Carpathia Says 700 Rescued.

Chicago, April 18.—The following wireless message, dated April 17, from a passenger of the Carpathia was received here:

"Carpathia picked up 700 Titanic, mostly women. Over 2,000 lost. Iceberg continuous mass twenty-five miles. Chicagoans this ship well. $35 a m.—Dr. P. H. Blackmar."

Dr. Blackmar of Chicago was going to Europe on the Carpathia.

KNOX BACK AT WASHINGTON

Thinks His Trip to Latin America Was Successful.

Washington, April 18.—Secretary Knox returned to the capital satisfied that he had accomplished the mission upon which he was sent by President Taft to the Caribbean republics. Mr. Knox expressed himself as pleased with his trip.

The secretary, in a formal statement to the press, said that two forces actuated by selfish motives, had operated to perpetuate misrule in the countries of the state department toward these governments. One force is domestic to these countries and the other is in the United States.

Sends Vigorous Reply to American Warning Note.

DENIES RIGHT OF ADMONITION

Southern Republic Asserts She Is Not Responsible for Orozco's Acts, Challenges Right of United States to Warn Her, Takes Exception to Note to Rebel Leader and Deplores Making Public That Communication.

Mexico City, April 18.—Mexico replied to the warning note of Acting Secretary Huntington Wilson declining to assume responsibility for Orozco's acts, denying the right of the Washington government to deliver the admonition contained therein, taking exception to the communication directed to Orozco through Consul Letcher and deploring the making public of this communication in the same note to which the government was required to make answer.

The reply was made public by Minister of Foreign Relations Calero. It denies the right of the Washington government to admonish Mexico, for the reason that it is not based on any justifiable incident. It denies responsibility by the constituted government for acts committed in territory in rebellion, while accepting full responsibility for every loss or damage sustained by foreigners legally chargeable to the government.

A caution has been issued to leaders of the federal forces to insure proper treatment of foreigners who may be taken as prisoners of war, at the same time it is asserted that no basis exists for supposing that any other course would be pursued.

Orozco is held to be answerable for his offenses only to the Mexican courts and therefore should not have been made the recipient of a diplomatic communication.

"In reply, and by express instructions of the president of the republic, I have the honor to say to your excellency:

Full Consciousness of Duty.
"The Mexican government has a full consciousness of its duty and neither by its acts, nor by the manifestations of its functionaries has it given a reason to doubt the sincerity of its determination to cause to be respected the generally accepted principles of international law and the rules which govern the conduct of civilized nations."

"Your government has recognized this in the note which I have the honor to answer and by means of other repeated demonstrations of friendship toward the government and the people of Mexico, which demonstrations so highly and so cordially have been esteemed in this country."

"For these reasons the Mexican government finds itself in the painful necessity of not recognizing the right of your government to make the admonition which the note contains, for the reason that it is not based on any incident that should be chargeable to the Mexican government and which could signify that it might have departed from an observance of the principles and practices of international law."

"In view of the fact that a part of the country is in a state of rebellion the Mexican government has as its principal duty the suppression of the rebellious movement and if in the regions removed from obedience to the legitimate authorities attempts are committed against the lives and property of foreigners the legitimate government of the republic will not be obligated in this respect except in the same terms as would the government of the United States or any other country if a rebellion existed in its own territory."

SAME ON THE GREAT LAKES

Duluth, April 18.—Insufficient lifeboats, the cause that led to 1,400 passengers and crew of the Titanic losing their lives, exists to an alarming degree on the Great Lakes, according to John Monaghan, government inspector of vessels in Duluth.

The law does not require passenger vessels to carry lifeboats sufficient in capacity and number to care for all the people on board, he said, and in the event of a lake boat meeting with an accident, making necessary immediate abandonment, only 25 to 40 per cent of those aboard could be saved, as this would exhaust the lifeboat capacity.

He said that if vessel owners were compelled to carry lifeboats to accommodate every one on board they would have to cut down their capacity and raise their rates for transportation.

John Paul Jones Statue Unveiled.

Washington, April 18.—The grim visaged statue of John Paul Jones, the first great commander of the American navy, moulded by the sculptor to show him as he stood on the deck of the Bon Homme Richard in her fight with the Serapis more than 120 years ago, was unveiled here with impressive ceremonies.

COMMANDER OF RESERVE FLEET

Admiral Knight, President of Ordnance Board, Chosen.

WAS TWICE COURT MARTIALED

The Maine Will Be the First Battleship of New Fleet, Composed of Ten First Class Battleships and Several Vessels of the Cruiser Type.

Rear Admiral Austin M. Knight, U. S. N., who is to be the first commander in chief of the United States reserve Atlantic fleet which is about to be organized and which is to be composed of about ten first class battleships and several vessels of the cruiser type, is one of the highest ordnance authorities in the navy and has been on duty as president of the special board on naval ordnance in Washington.

Admiral Knight was court martialed last spring on two separate occasions on the charge of culpable negligence in connection with the sinking of the old monitor Puritan at Hampton Roads, following the test of a high explosive. In November, 1910, it was alleged that the water tight compartment of the Puritan and the bulkheads had not been properly inspected before the test and that for that reason the ship was unable to withstand the shock.

Admiral Knight was tried by seven admirals, the president of the court being the late Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans. Lieutenant Commander Ridley McLean was the judge advocate in charge of the government's case. The court unanimously acquitted Admiral Knight, and the findings were sent to Secretary Meyer, who disapproved them and directed a reconsideration of the charges. The court thereupon for a second time rendered a verdict acquitting the accused of fever, and Secretary Meyer for a second time disapproved the findings, but ordered the officer back to duty as head of the special ordnance board.

The announcement that Admiral Knight is now to have the command of the second greatest of American fleets is taken as an indication that he is again within the favor of the secretary of the navy. Mrs. Knight, the admiral's wife, was ill during his court martial and died while the court was in session. Among those who sided with Admiral Knight was Congressman Padgett, the chairman of the house committee on naval affairs.

It is understood that the first flagship of the reserve fleet will be the Maine which was the flagship of Admiral Evans when he first assumed command of the Atlantic fleet. Other battleships that are to be assigned to the fleet will be the Massachusetts, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Alabama and the Wisconsin. Later, when the Dreadnought division, which is commanded by Rear Admiral Aaron Ward, is made up of the Florida (flagship), the Utah, Delaware, North Dakota and Michigan, the Connecticut is now independent of any division and is the fleet flagship of Rear Admiral Osterhaus, the commander in chief.

COMMANDER OF RESERVE FLEET

Admiral Knight, President of Ordnance Board, Chosen.

WAS TWICE COURT MARTIALED

The Maine Will Be the First Battleship of New Fleet, Composed of Ten First Class Battleships and Several Vessels of the Cruiser Type.

Rear Admiral Austin M. Knight, U. S. N., who is to be the first commander in chief of the United States reserve Atlantic fleet which is about to be organized and which is to be composed of about ten first class battleships and several vessels of the cruiser type, is one of the highest ordnance authorities in the navy and has been on duty as president of the special board on naval ordnance in Washington.

Admiral Knight was court martialed last spring on two separate occasions on the charge of culpable negligence in connection with the sinking of the old monitor Puritan at Hampton Roads, following the test of a high explosive. In November, 1910. It was alleged that the water tight compartment on the Puritan and the bulkheads had not been properly inspected before the test and that for that reason the ship was unable to withstand the shock.

Admiral Knight was tried by seven admirals, the president of the court being the late Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans. Lieutenant Commander Ridley McLean was the judge advocate in charge of the government's case. The court unanimously acquitted Admiral Knight, and the findings were sent to Secretary Meyer, who disapproved them and directed a reconsideration of the charges. The court thereupon for a second time rendered a verdict acquitting the accused of fief, and Secretary Meyer for a second time disapproved the findings, but ordered the officer back to duty as head of the special ordnance board.

The announcement that Admiral Knight is now to have the command of the second greatest of American fleets is taken as an indication that he is again within the favor of the secretary of the navy. Mrs. Knight, the admiral's wife, was ill during his court martial and died while the court was in session. Among those who sided with Admiral Knight was Congressman Padgett, the chairman of the house committee on naval affairs.

It is understood that the first flagship of the reserve fleet will be the Maine which was the flagship of Admiral Evans when he first assumed command of the Atlantic fleet. Other battleships that are to be assigned to the fleet will be the Massachusetts, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Kentucky, Alabama and the Wisconsin. Later, when the dreadnoughts Wyoming and Arkansas are commissioned, the Ohio and the Missouri will be added.

In connection with the organization of the reserve fleet it is interesting to note that the reorganization of the Atlantic fleet has been completed and that now for the first time in the history of the service there is a fighting fleet of twenty-one first class battleships and five cruisers and that among the divisions is one in which every vessel is of the new Dreadnought type. The Dreadnought division, which is commanded by Rear Admiral Aaron Ward, is made up of the Florida (flagship), the Utah, Delaware, North Dakota and Michigan. The Connecticut is now independent of any division and is the fleet flagship of Rear Admiral Osterhaus, the commander in chief.

TOWERS' SENTENCE IS COMMUTED

25 Year Sentence of Henry Towers Commuted to 12 Years by the State Pardon Board

TO BE PAROLED NEXT YEAR

Towers' Health Has Broken Down Since He Was Sent to Prison in 1907

The sentence of Henry Towers, sentenced to the state prison for murder in the third degree, was commuted to twelve years by the pardon board at its meeting in the governor's office Monday.

In the absence of Attorney General Smith, who was ill at his home, other cases were heard but no action was taken until a meeting of the full board can be called.

Towers was sentenced from Brainerd in 1907, charged with murder. His health has broken down since he was sent to prison and the board of parole recommended commutation.

Judge W. S. McClenahan who sentenced Towers, also urged clemency. By having his sentence commuted to twelve years Towers will be eligible to parole next January and the board of parole contemplates giving him his freedom at that time. He has a wife and several children who are in need and the humane society has taken up his case. Railroad men by whom he was employed have promised to give him work as soon as he is released. St. Paul Pioneer Press.

BONDY FUNERAL FRIDAY

Held From the Home, 823 Juniper Street, 2 P. M. and the Methodist Church 3 P. M.

The funeral of the late William H. Bondy will be held from the residence, 823 Juniper street, at two o'clock Friday afternoon and at three o'clock from the Methodist church, Rev. Chas. Fox Davis officiating. The body is now at the home where friends and neighbors may view the remains. As Mr. Bondy was an active Mason it is believed the funeral will be under Masonic auspices.

Among the relatives here to attend the funeral are Clarence Bondy, of Rochester, a brother of the deceased; D. W. McDougall, of Elgin, a brother of Mrs. Bondy; Mrs. A. R. Hart, of St. Charles, a sister of Mrs. Bondy; Mr. and Mrs. William McDougall, formerly of Brainerd and now residents of Winnipeg, Mr. McDougall being a brother of Mrs. Bondy. R. W. Bondy and John McDougall, of Chicago, have been wired and may arrive in time to attend the funeral.

NORTH LONG LAKE

Miss Warnberg came up from Minneapolis Sunday and returned to her work in Dist. No. 3 Monday morning. Miss Inga Jensen went to Deerwood Friday to visit friends for a few days.

Some of the young people went down to the B. A. Y. hall in Daggett Brook to the dance last Monday.

Wm. H. Johnston is home from Two Harbors for a visit.

Rachel Thompson was visiting her sister in Brainerd the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Hughey and daughter, Mary, were visiting at W. L. Taylor's in Deerwood last Saturday and Sunday.

The L. S. club will meet with Mrs. Madsen May 1st.

The farmers are busy getting the grain in the ground.

TOWERS' SENTENCE IS COMMUTED

25 Year Sentence of Henry Towers Commuted to 12 Years by the State Pardon Board

TO BE PAROLED NEXT YEAR

Towers' Health Has Broken Down Since He Was Sent to Prison in 1907

The sentence of Henry Towers, sentenced to the state prison for murder in the third degree, was commuted to twelve years by the pardon board at its meeting in the governor's office Monday.

In the absence of Attorney General Smith, who was ill at his home, other cases were heard but no action was taken until a meeting of the full board can be called.

Towers was sentenced from Brainerd in 1907, charged with murder. His health has broken down since he was sent to prison and the board of parole recommended commutation.

Judge W. S. McClenahan who sentenced Towers, also urged clemency. By having his sentence commuted to twelve years Towers will be eligible to parole next January and the board of parole contemplates giving him his freedom at that time. He has a wife and several children who are in need and the humane society has taken up his case. Railroad men by whom he was employed have promised to give him work as soon as he is released.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

BONDY FUNERAL FRIDAY

Held From the Home, 823 Juniper Street, 2 P. M. and the Methodist Church 3 P. M.

The funeral of the late William H. Bondy will be held from the residence, 823 Juniper street, at two o'clock Friday afternoon and at three o'clock from the Methodist church, Rev. Chas. Fox Davis officiating. The body is now at the home where friends and neighbors may view the remains. As Mr. Bondy was an active Mason it is believed the funeral will be under Masonic auspices.

Among the relatives here to attend the funeral are Clarence Bondy, of Rochester, a brother of the deceased; D. W. McDougal, of Elgin, a brother of Mrs. Bondy; Mrs. A. R. Hart, of St. Charles, a sister of Mrs. Bondy; Mr. and Mrs. William McDougal, formerly of Brainerd and now residents of Winnipeg, Mr. McDougal being a brother of Mrs. Bondy. R. W. Bondy and John McDougal, of Chicago, have been wired and may arrive in time to attend the funeral.

NORTH LONG LAKE

Miss Warnberg came up from Minneapolis Sunday and returned to her work in Dist. No. 3 Monday morning. Miss Inga Jensen went to Deerwood Friday to visit friends for a few days.

REGULATION OF THE HOLIDAYS.

Efficiency in Calendar Making
Proposed by R. H. Weevil.

IN BEHALF OF THE WORKERS.

Plan is to have Holidays Fall on Monday So as to Give Two or Two and a Half Days Free—Employers Would Benefit Too.

R. H. Weevil, connected with a large New York establishment employing many men and also known for his work in men's church clubs, has proposed that scientific management be applied to holidays. He points out that of the nine legal holidays generally observed in this country four come within nine weeks of each other in midwinter, when they are of least value because of winter weather preventing trips and outdoor sports. These four are Christmas, New Year's, Lincoln's and Washington's birthdays. In summer, when holidays mean most, the long hot spell from Decoration day, on May 30, to Labor day, in September, is unbroken, except for the Fourth of July.

Mr. Weevil wants all holidays to fall on Monday. That would give the workers two days or two and a half days free, which is almost as good as a vacation.

Mr. Weevil's Plan.

Mr. Weevil has published his plan in the Survey. He says:

"Twice in the course of the year the holidays all but tread on each other's heels—at Christmas tide and again in February. Other seasons months go by without a break in the steady round of six days on and one day off. Not only do the holidays thus fall irregularly, but, with two exceptions, they pay no heed at all to the scheme of the week to which most work day affairs are adjusted.

"As Americans we commemorate the public service of two great citizens, George Washington and Abraham Lincoln, on Feb. 22 and 12, respectively. In addition the legal holiday calendar includes Memorial day, May 30; Independence day, July 4; Labor day, the first Monday in September, and Thanksgiving day, in November.

"But modern industrial conditions are at variance with the greatest possible benefit which legal holidays might confer, and in some instances financial hardships are involved for both employer and employee. For instance, where a holiday falls on Tuesday or Friday many business concerns cut their payroll by closing down on the Monday preceding or Saturday following, thus enforcing a two day holiday. Then, again, when such holidays fall in midweek the holiday spirit on the day preceding and following seriously interferes with the efficiency of the worker and thus involves a hardship on the employer. It is generally conceded that the afternoon preceding a holiday and the morning after are not to be counted upon for normal product.

Rearrangement Suggested.

"Another difficulty is that two holidays fall in February, when outdoor demonstrations and military and other pageants are impossible. Therefore the day is of little benefit, while no holiday falls during that long period between July 4 and Sept. 5, when the need of recreation presses heavily on many thousands to whom summer vacations are impossible.

"A possible remedy is to rearrange the calendar of holiday dates, having all holidays (except Christmas and New Year's, for obvious reasons) observed on Mondays following the given date—Washington day on the Monday following the 22d of February, Lincoln day transferred to the first Monday in April, Memorial day the last Monday in May, Independence day the first Monday in July and here introduce a new holiday known as Recreation day on the first Monday in August. This only needs suggesting to open up a vision of its possibilities. Labor day follows on the first Monday in September and Thanksgiving day on the last Monday in November.

"This order would secure for our industrial army a two and one-half days' respite from toil with loss of only one day's pay and would insure for the employer a better week's product from five consecutive days' labor after a two and one-half days' rest."

MAINE'S HULL TO BE SUNK WITH HONORS.

Naval Burial Ordered For the Old Battleship's Remains.

The navy and war departments will give the remains of the old battleship Maine, which was destroyed fourteen years ago in Havana harbor, a military burial.

It is announced that, all debris having been removed, that part of the Maine left intact will be towed to deep water for burial on or about March 4. The navy department has ordered the armored cruiser North Carolina and the scout cruiser Birmingham to proceed to Havana and receive such relics and material from the wreck as may have been accumulated since the departure from Havana of the collier Leonidas.

After this has been done the crews of the ships will go ashore and participate in a military funeral to be held by the Cuban government for the bodies of the remainder of the crew of the Maine which have been recovered since the cofferdam was emptied.

The arrangements so far completed provide that on the day the bodies are to be removed to the North Carolina the guns of Morro Castle will fire salutes at intervals of thirty minutes from sunrise to sunset.

The bodies will be transferred to the North Carolina in the ship's boats, and

RIFLEMEN GOING TO FRANCE.

Americans Also to Compete at Stockholm and Argentina.

The National Rifle Association of America, in addition to sending teams to the Olympic games at Stockholm, Sweden, and to the pan-American shoot at Buenos Aires, Argentina, next summer, has decided also to be represented at the international continental rifle matches at Bayonne-Biarritz, France, late in July.

The three teams going abroad will carry with them official invitations to the riflemen of Europe and South America to come to the United States next year.

Although the United States has been a member for several years of the International Union of National Rifle Associations, in which fourteen nations hold membership and under whose auspices the French meet is being held, this year is the first time this country will be represented. The troupe to select the men for the team will be held at Camp Perry, O., in the latter part of May. The international union will be invited to hold its meet next year at Camp Perry.
